

Scotland's International Development Alliance

Rt. Hon. Penny Mordaunt MP
Secretary of State for International Development
Department for International Development
London SW1A 2EG

9 November 2017

Dear Secretary of State,

Please accept our congratulations on your appointment as Secretary of State for International Development.

Scotland's International Development Alliance was established in 2000, then known as the Network of International Development Organisations, or NIDOS. It represents the international development sector in Scotland. Its membership of around 115 organisations is drawn from NGO's, universities and companies who share a common interest in addressing poverty and injustice internationally.

We enjoy close relationships with your Department, especially the Inclusive Societies Department, and are regular visitors to East Kilbride. The Department has recently fielded senior representatives to our event on disability held last month in Glasgow, and on economic development to our Annual Conference also held in Glasgow.

Scotland for a fairer world.

We in Scotland engaged in international development look forward to working closely with you on the many important issues which concern us all, as we strive to create a fairer world. We hope that you will be able to accept an invitation to visit us in our offices in Edinburgh, or to head up a membership event for us, early in the new year. If you would like one of us to meet with you as part of a visit to your officials in East Kilbride, please let us know.

With best wishes,

Jamie RR Morrison, Chair
