“Smaller countries like Scotland can, overall, have a disproportionately positive impact on global issues, where there is that will and strength of leadership to do so.”

Development investment, aim that our funding, though modest, can create transformative impact in our partner countries. By taking a feminist approach, working in partnerships & selecting sectors where Scotland can provide added value beyond our financial contribution.

Scotland has a key role in providing ethical leadership on global issues such as equality, non-discrimination, human dignity, rule of law, sustainable development, climate justice and fair trade – underpinned by a human rights approach.

Scotland has a proven role as a bridge builder between the Global South and North – e.g. on climate, and vaccine equity.
